Father Diamond Sings First Mass

The Rev. William V. Diamond, O. M. I., son of the late Joseph E. and Ella Diamond of this city, was among the 21 Missionary Oblates of Mary Immaculate ordained to the priesthood at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, Washington, D. C., Tuesday, June 7.

Father Diamond returned to Trenton, N. J., on Sunday to sing his first solemn Mass at Blessed Sacrament Church, where he served as an altar boy. At the same time the sermon was delivered by the Very Rev. Emmet F. Lane, O. M. I., of Newburgh. Father Diamond is a brother of Mrs. John R. Kersey and Mrs. Maurice U. Tome, both of Trenton, N. J.

Father Diamond received his early education at School No. 6 in this city and later at the Blessed Sacrament and Cathedral Schools in Trenton, where his mother moved following the death of her husband, Joseph E. Diamond, in 1917. He also attended Belmont Abbey, Belmont, N. C. At the completion of his freshman year, he entered the Oblate Novitiate at Newburgh, Mass., in 1931. He continued his studies at the Oblate House of Philosophy at Newburgh. For four years he has been studying at the Oblate Scholasticate, affiliated with the Catholic University of America, at Washington. He is now a member of the First American Province of the Oblate Fathers.

Mrs. Thomas J. Diamond, Mrs. and Mrs. Eugene B. Carey and their daughter, Sheila, attended Father Diamond's first Mass.

Preserved Berries Last Nearly a Half Century

Ogdensburg, N. Y., June 15 (AP)—Children and grandchildren of the late Elbert Bigelow paid tribute to her memory at a recent family gathering by eating wild strawberries which she had canned 43 years previously.

The berries retained their shape and flavor of nearly half a century ago, Mrs. Ainsworth Jenkins, a daughter, asserted.

Score one for Auntie!

A young woman who had forgotten an aunt's birthday was riding on a street car a few days after the event and happened to meet the very same aunt.

The niece apologized for her thoughtlessness, explaining that she would have called in person if it had not been raining. This was too much for the aunt, who retorted, "Well, the telephone was dry!"

Score one for Auntie! As a matter of fact, regardless of the weather, a telephone call is a nice, personal way to remember a birthday or anniversary. It is particularly appreciated by persons living in another town or city. And you'll likely be surprised to find out how little it costs to send your voice across the miles, especially at the low rates in effect to most points every evening after seven and all day Sunday. STUDENTS ELEVATE PENNY TO TOP RANK

Reveals the Importance of Lowly Coin in Business.

Troy, N. Y.—Rensselaer Polytechnic institute students here are still basking in the sudden national fame they achieved when they elevated the once lowly penny to first rank in the coinage system by staging a "penny tax revolt."

The "TaxCENTinels," an off-spring of the R. P. I. students' union, caught the attention of the world by using the penny in dramatic fashion to symbolize the hidden tax everyone pays: in buying food, clothing, shelter and other necessities.

Under the auspices of the Students' union, the TaxCENTinels bought up just about all of Troy's pennies—250,000 of them—and temporarily embarrassed merchants and banks.

Then the students put the coins back into circulation by paying 25 per cent of their purchases in pennies.

Most Important Coin.

While this was seemingly just a college prank, it was actually the result of serious study on the part of the students. They were striving for the most effective way to inform the average American consumer that his standard of living is touched by the fact that one-fourth of every purchase he makes goes to the collector of unseen taxes.

The penny, suddenly skyrocketed to national fame as the most important coin in merchants' tills, has not often achieved such a degree of popularity.

In fact, until the student tax movement swept the Troy campus, the penny was scorned for years by all but children who toddle to candy counters.

The original American penny, which was minted in 1793, was immediately unpopular because of its weight and unhandy size. Since then, the penny has been successively reduced from its original weight of 264 grains to 49, so that it is now one-fifth as heavy as it was at first.

The penny acquired its colloquial name of "copper" from its content, which is 95 per cent of that metal and 5 per cent tin and zinc. However, the word "penny" was first applied to a silver coin introduced by Offa, king of Mercia in England. Later the word "peni" or "peny" was applied to an old English copper token.

Shortly after the Revolutionary war, congress provided for a uniform coinage to take the place of British money then in circulation.

First Copper Coins.

The first official order for small coins called for the minting of two copper coins, the cent and half-cent. A total of $50,000 worth was put in circulation.

Some copper coins were struck by states, such as New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Vermont and New Jersey, to meet small coin demand, but they surrendered their coinage privileges in a federal constitutional provision adopted in 1787.

The half-cent was withdrawn from the coinage system before the Civil war. Experiments were made with two and three cent pieces, in 1864.

1865, the value of the three-cent coin coinciding with the letter mail rate of the time.

Both suffered the fate of other small coins and were withdrawn, the two-cent piece in 1873, and the three-cent coin in 1880.

The latest suggestion which may affect the fate of the penny is the proposal to coin a three-cent piece again to facilitate the purchase of newspapers.

Educator Calls America Citadel for Soothsayers

Fort Wayne, Ind.—Prof. Ottomar Krueger, president of Concordia college here, believes:

"No other nation patronizes so many so-called miracle men, such as innumerable hosts of soothsayers, fortune tellers, spiritualists, crystal gazers, as the American nation."

"No other country is so over-run with characters purporting to bring additional revelations from heaven, more definite knowledge concerning eternity, than our own U. S. A. Nowhere else are such vast sums of money spent foolishly each year to help all the coffers of cheats, charlatans and mountebanks as here."

There are no jury trials in China. In the lower courts, all powers are vested in a single judge. In the case of appeal to the high court three judges render final decision.

4-H CLUB NEWS

The Lake Katrine Junior 4-H Club held another of its meetings, Saturday, June 11, at the home of Mrs. Frank Enlist, the club's local leader. Plans were made for summer camp and club congress. Those expecting to go to congress, June 26 to 30, are as follows: Nancy Boice, Norma Boice, Eleanor Morehouse, Ellen Schaffer, Veronica Schaffer and Mildred Bea-son. The younger members that are not yet able to go to club congress signed up to go to camp. After all the plans were taken care of the meeting was turned over to the local leader and the rest of the time the girls sewed.

FLOODS BRING NEW DISASTERS TO BLOODY CHINA

Japanese military reports said 150,000 Chinese, mostly farm families, perished in swirling Yellow River floods, worsened by great breaks in dikes. The Japanese charged retreating Chinese troops with blasting the breaks while the Chinese contended they were caused by Japanese artillery. At any rate, in the black area above—vital rail crossroads of China and military objective of Japan—both native and invader have been engulfed by the river known as "China's Sorrow." A large Japanese force was unreported; others retreated from Chengchow to Kaifeng. The floods will get worse, engineers said. The shaded area is territory held by Japan.

Yellow River Puts Armies on Run as Flood Increases

Shanghai, June 15 (AP)—Both Chinese and Japanese armies fled today before a Yellow River flood that could not be stopped either by guns or bombs.

Spilling through immense breaches in the river dikes between Chengchow and Kaifeng, the flood waters rolled for miles across the plains of Honan province, carrying disaster to millions of Chinese peasants as well as to armies.

Japanese war dispatches said fully 300,000 Chinese civilians had been made homeless and estimated that 150,000 civilians had drowned.

Although some reports were regarded as highly exaggerated, there no longer was doubt that property damage and loss of life would be wide-spread.

Hundreds of floating corpses were declared to be visible, and Japanese troops were turning from war to life-saving, participating feverishly in building rafts in an effort to save Chinese peasants stranded on high ground and house-tops.

Tragedy long familiar to China was being enacted as farmers, fleeing before the relentless current, were trapped and drowned in their homes and fields.

Delayed Japanese dispatches said the rapidly-rising flood was coursing in a southeasterly direction from Chungmow.

It was believed the towns of Yushih, Tungshu and Kihshien sou would be directly threatened.

These towns are on the route over which a Japanese column recently thrust at the Peiping-Hankow railway near Changko in an effort to cut the railroad between Chengchow and Hankow, the Chinese provisional capital 300 miles south.

Flowing over the East-West Lungtai railway, in some places at a depth of five feet, the on-rushing waters interposed a complete barrier to a Japanese advance upon Chengchow and to their push further south toward the vital north-south Peiping-Hankow line.

Enjoyed Fishing Trip
Justice Harry L. Schirck, who has been on a fishing trip to Canada, has returned home and reports that fishing was "excellent."

With a party of friends he spent some time on the Virgin Lakes, located about 153 miles north of Montreal. The lakes are reached after a 20 mile ride by buckboard and team over an abandoned "corduroy" logging road from St. Michel. Among the prize catches which Justice Schirck landed was a 15-pound pike.

Mixing Colors
By mixing the primary colors (red, yellow and blue) in various proportions most colors can be obtained. Mixing all three primary colors in equal parts gives a neutral color. By mixing any two of the three primary colors in proper proportion the complementary or secondary color results. For instance, mixing blue and yellow will produce green, which is the complementary color to red. Yellow and red produce orange, which is the complement of blue, while red and blue produce violet, the complement of yellow. If paint or enamel is not the exact shade desired, the color can be changed by adding white or black. To lessen the brilliance of a color add its complement—blue to orange, green to red or yellow to violet.

Seats Assigned Senators
Senators are assigned certain seats and desks. Seniority governs seating and changes are made from time to time. In the house of representatives no allotment is made and the members occupy any seat available. In both the house and senate political divisions are made. The Democrats occupy one side and the Republicans the other.

The camel is still retained as the chief beast of burden in northern China.

Protection Urged

Albany, N. Y., June 15 (AP)—Constitutional protection of real estate from "confiscatory taxation" was urged today by President S. O'Hara of the State Real Estate Association. "The future security of home ownership depends upon protecting real estate from confiscatory taxation," he said in a brief filed with a constitutional convention committee on the eve of a public airing of proposals designed to limit real estate taxation.

To Give Clothing.

Washington, June 15 (AP)—The WPA will distribute $10,000,000 worth of clothing and 500,000 cases of grapefruit juice to families on relief. Administrator Harry L. Hopkins said the dry goods would be purchased everywhere that manufacturers could guarantee immediate delivery and that the grapefruit juice will be bought to stave off the threat of a "citric" market due a record pack.

Mental Wizard To Appear Here

Richard E. Silvers, who is known as America's foremost mindreader will appear at the Broadway Theatre for one week starting Saturday, June 18, it was announced today.

The power of Mr. Silvers' psychic brain was recognized in his youth by his own parents after he was stricken in his fifth year with infantile paralysis. His parents at first denied his request to be taken to a certain doctor in New York, but later conceded, after treatments at Toronto, Canada, his birthplace, failed.

Following his recovery, the parents were amazed that he should have been able to predict his own recovery, should he be taken to the New York doctor, and they found from psychologists that he was psychic.

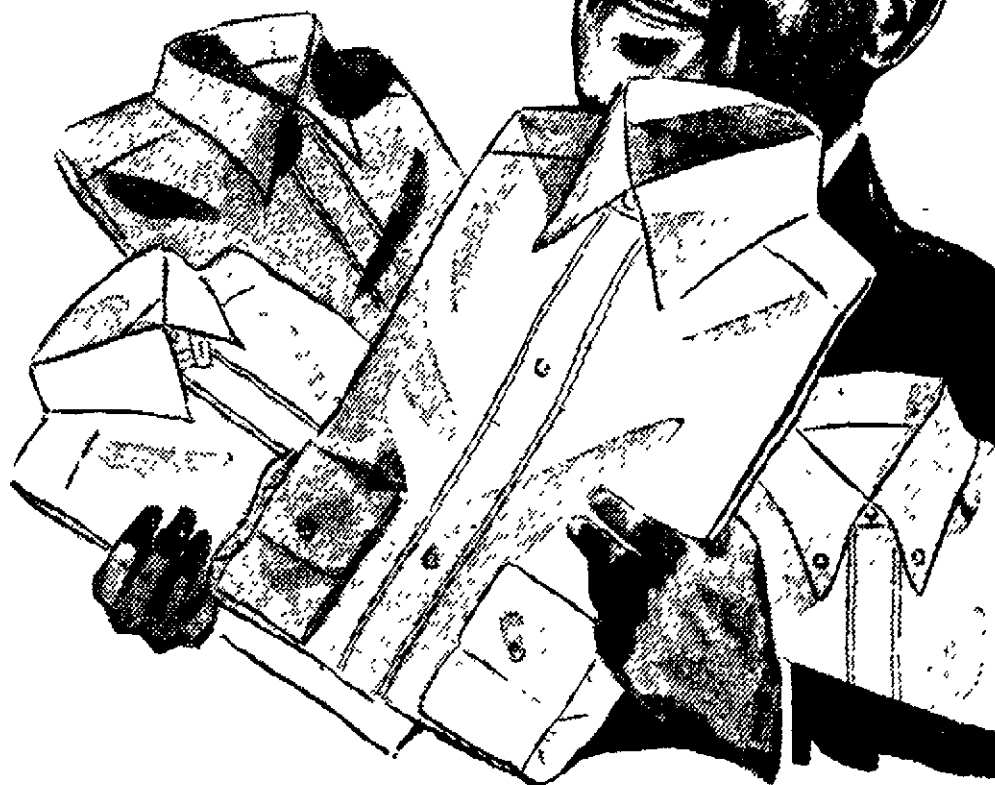

A special show for ladies only will be given Tuesday at noon.

INFANT SPELLBINDER

The youngest politician and stump speaker we've heard of is a seven-year-old Cleveland girl, who has been at it for three years. It would hardly be right to give her full name, because it would just bring the child more publicity, and such exhibitionism shouldn't be encouraged. Just call her Arlene.

The gentle reader can hardly realize how dreadful it must be, from accounts published in the Cleveland papers. She really is in politics, up to the ears, aided and abetted by doting parents. Give her any issue, at any time, plus a public hall and a little time for parental coaching, and little Arlene will arise on the platform, glare at the audience, shriek "Mis-ter Chair-man, la-dies and gen-tle-men, I am grateful for this op-pur-tun-ity—" and then clench her fists and pound the table and tear her hair in the conventional manner, telling the city and state and nation what to do.

When she grows up, Arlene says, she is going to run for some office. She doesn't know yet just what office, but she would like to be President. But possibly the little girl has mistaken her vocation. We don't mean to suggest anything so vulgar as hog-calling, but something quite different. How about teaching lip-reading in some nice deaf-and-dumb institution?

NEW HOPE FOR POLIOS

It is good news that Fred Snite, Jr., the young man who has traveled 12,000 miles in an iron lung, is going to get about this summer and enjoy some of the sights which normal young fellows enjoy. A specially built automobile, equipped with a periscope, is ready to take him in his respirator to baseball games and on scenic drives.

The "Boiler Kid", as the courageous young man cheerfully calls himself, was stricken with infantile paralysis in China two years ago. When it was possible to move him he was brought home to Chicago, traveling in the iron lung which has enabled him to breathe all these months. He spent last winter in Florida, making the journey in comparative comfort and returning home this summer "in high spirits". His condition is slowly improving. He is now able to remain outside the respirator for twenty-four minutes at one time.

Not every victim of infantile paralysis has such opportunity for private care of the most up-to-date type. Yet no victim, and no parents, will begrudge him his travel and his small but increasing list of pleasures. Everything that is done for Fred Snite that advances his recovery adds to knowledge of the disease and improves the chances of other sufferers.

CANDY IS FOOD

The state of Ohio put on a sales tax rather early in the depression. Later, it made food exempt. Candy was not considered food by the tax authorities. The other day two judges, one in Cuyahoga and one in Summit County, decided that candy was indeed food and was therefore not taxable. This decision gives great joy, naturally, to candy buyers and candy sellers. (The tax collectors are not so happy, but that's another story.)

At just about the same time, chemists in convention in New York were declaring that candy is not only a food but a useful one. That four o'clock fatigue, so aptly dispelled by the English with their cup of tea, two lumps, please, their thin bread and butter and their frosted cakes, calls on this side of the water, say the chemists, for two or three pieces of chocolate candy. And it's not candy that spoils the teeth, they say, but rather some deficiency in the diet.

So little John and his sister Sue may now request their after school sweets with hope of success. Parents may buy them with a clear conscience. And in Ohio, if the judicial decisions are allowed to stand, from now on there will be no tax. Buying candy is going to be morally and financially easier.

ECONOMICAL DEPARTMENT

With all the money spent by Congress, it is strange that so little is given to the State Department, which is today our first line of defense in Asia and Europe and of first importance in Pan-American relations. It is eking out an existence on $16,000,000 a year. That pays for our whole diplomatic and consular service throughout the world, along with activities at the headquarters in Washington. The head of the department is, in theory and practice, the head of the whole cabinet, and his job is bigger than it ever was before. But Congress is notoriously stingy in that direction.

"I shall never be able to understand," writes Oswald Garrison Villard in the Nation, "why President Roosevelt himself has not demanded a large increase in the sum allotted to the department. He has not hesitated to ask for authorizations and appropriations for the navy which come to approximately $2,600,000,000. I understand that the State Department has not an adequate library, is even lacking in desirable periodicals—in other words, is deprived of the tools of its trade."

He wishes every congressman knew what fine work our permanent state officials of that department are doing today in Europe, China, Japan and Latin-America.

THE DEAD CHILDREN

The knowledge that the Cash boy was "accidentally" suffocated, the finding of the body of young Peter Levine, prove once more that kidnaping is always potential murder. Whether or not the kidnaper "didn't intend to hurt" the child the fact remains that taking any child away from his home for ransom purposes always involves cruelty. It is more than likely to end in the death of the child, or at least in serious illness and a conditioning of fear that may ruin the child's life.

The G-men are to be thanked and congratulated for their work on the disappearance of the Cash boy of Princeton, Fla. It is only by quick solutions of these cases that would-be kidnapers can learn how dangerous to themselves as well as to their victims is this game of torture.

GENERAL TREATMENT FOR ANAEMIA.
 When an individual is said to be anaemic—have thin blood—the first thought for a great many years was to give 'iron' pills, because anaemia really means lack of iron. And even today the anaemic individual is still given iron pills, iron tablets, iron capsules, and even iron injections. These methods of giving iron are all helpful in anaemia.

Then when Drs. Minot and Murphy, Boston, were able to show the medical profession wonderful results of feeding liver to patients with the formerly fatal type of anaemia—pernicious anaemia—liver, in some form, became the common method of treating all cases of anaemia. Later extract of hog's stomach instead of liver began to be used with the same success.

While this treatment by iron, liver, or liver extract and hog's stomach helps most patients, it should not prevent the patient or, in cases where the patient is under treatment, the patient's physician from finding out the cause of the anaemia and trying to correct it. The fact that the iron or the liver helps to increase the amount of iron in the blood or increase the number of red corpuscles in the blood should satisfy neither patient nor physician, for among the causes of anaemia are some that can be removed or prevented.

In speaking of anaemia seen in general practice Dr. H. K. Speed, Sayre, in Oklahoma State Medical Association Journal, among other mentions dental sepsis—poisoning from the teeth—and anaemia due to lack of vitamins and minerals in the food eaten.

"The treatment of anaemia may be divided into three divisions: Prevention, the general treatment of anaemia and treatment by specific or special remedies."

Prevention of anaemia would include a general examination by the physician and dentist so that any low infection that may be destroying the red corpuscles or retarding the iron from them would be readily discovered.

General treatment includes bed rest, rich nutritious foods, especially meats, green vegetables and fruits.

Eating Your Way to Health

Dr. Barton's interesting booklet entitled "Eating Your Way to Health" may be obtained by sending ten cents for each copy to The Bell Library, 247 West 43rd street, New York, N. Y. It tells you what and how much to eat, information on vitamins, minerals, calories and the foods to constitute an all-round diet. Be sure to ask for the booklet by name and mention the name of this newspaper.

Octagon House

BY PHOEBE ATWOOD TAYLOR

The Story So Far: Assey Mayo, Cape Cod detective, is investigating the murder of Marina Lorne, whose husband's post office mural has enraged Quoniamet. She was killed by a left handed blow from the knife of her sister, Pam Frye. Milling around Octagon House and otherwise involved are: agreeable Tim Carr, who was married to Marina; Jack Lorne, who thought he was her husband; Roddy Strutt, whose plane crashed the night of the murder; Peggy Boone, an artist; Jennings, a plumber; and persons unknown who smoke Turkish tobacco, burned down the barn, biffed Assey, Tim, Pam's father and two troopers, and destroyed Jack's mural sketches. Missing is a $50,000 lump of ambergris belonging to Pam. Meanwhile, Tim seems to be thinking of Pam in connection with his future.

Chapter 35

The Sweet With The Bitter

"PAM!" Peg Boone called from the kitchen. "Pam, where are you?"

"I've got to go," Pam said hastily. "She wants—"

"I do," Tim was replying to her housemaidly question. "I do, do I. What nice hands you have, I'm so sick of painted claws. Look, what's this about ambergris? Is it like verdigris, or a variation of amper-sand? I'm sure I ought to know, it's probably something I should be teaching the youth of America, but my mind's a blank. What are ambergris? And—oh—"

Peg Boone walked over to them and eyed them both rather curiously. Pam felt herself turning red again.

"Something's definitely wrong with the Spanish cream, Pam," she said. "I can't tell if it's too Spanish, or too creamy, but it's not as it should be."

"I'll be right in," Pam said. Timothy watched Peg stride back to the house.

"What," he said, "does she do around here?"

"What do you mean, what does she do?"

Tim shrugged. "Every time I manage to haul you off for a nice long chat, up she pops. She reminds me of Aaron's clocks. Just as you forget them, they strike."

"She's nice," Pam said. "She's a friend of ours."

"I suppose she is," Tim said with a sigh. "Well, I'll just have to take the bitter with the sweet, I suppose. You won't like let's of our friends, either. We know a tea taster who wears a coral bracelet around one ankle, and sandals with a thong next his big toe. I'll tell you what—we'll introduce him to Peg. Maybe they'll marry. Isn't it wonderful how problems disappear, if you just put your mind to work? And," he added before Pam had time to speak, "where did Aaron get those clocks, anyway?"

"Auctions," Pam said. "He got the first ones by accident, and then it got into his blood. He slinks around attics, hunting them. Why don't you like—"

"Gran's that way about elephants," Tim said. "She buys—look, do you really have to see about that Spanish cream? I thought it was one of those things you couldn't see afterwards."

"Mean, either you hit on the head, or you don't."

"I know," Pam said. "You're what they call an extravert. You—"

"The things I draw on phone pads," Tim said. "Are as normal and healthy as can be. Well, let's cope with the Spanish cream, but don't let's ask the Boone to stay on indefinitely."

Pam stopped short. "Why ever not, Tim? What's the matter? Why don't you like her?"

"If I were a woman," Tim dropped his bantering tone. "I'd say it was just my intuition. I don't know why I don't like her. Do you warm up to her much, yourself?"

"There!" Tim said. "Smile!"

"Her Eyes Don't Smile!"

"BUT I do like her," Pam said.

"She's been awfully decent to me. I'm not 'intensely enthusiastic' about her. I've known her too long and too well, and besides, I don't often get violently enthusiastic about people. What is it you have against her?"

"Nothing," Tim took her arm. "Come on—"

"You have," Pam said. "I want to know before we go in."

"Well, you ask for it," Tim told her. "It's just that she's so damn hearty, but her eyes don't smile. I feel the same way about your brother-in-law. God knows no one would ever accuse him of being hearty, but his eyes are such fishy things. Like cod on ice in a fish market window. And then every time I set myself up to the pitch of telling you about Marina, she appears on the scene. That's worse than her eyes."

"What about Marina?" Pam said.

"I was married to her," Timothy said. "Before Lorne. I—no, please don't say anything now. Not till you've considered how much we have in common. It isn't Marina that matters. It's what she did—now, tell me about ambergris. Is it either portable or valuable?"

"Both," Pam said in a small voice.

"Really?" Tim said. "Tell me all about it—"

He remembered, as they went into the kitchen, all the questions Assey had put to the troopers about the barrow and the carlings that had gone on the day before. And he remembered that Peggy Boone had helped his grandmother repair the flower bed.

"All about it," he continued, still avoiding Pam's eye. "Ambergris. One, an Introductory Course."

While Timothy was being told about ambergris, Assey parked his car in front of the Pochet hospital, and went in to see Roddy's pilot.

"I was just going to call you," the nurse on duty said. "Susan asked me. Brigham's doing nicely. He really shouldn't have any callers, though, so you won't get him excited or stay too long, will you? Dr. Carter sent you his regards, by the way, and says he's coming down for a sail before his vacation's over. I'll show you the room."

"How's Earl Jennings?" Assey asked as they walked down the corridor. "I hear he's been acting up."

"So you heard about that episode, did you?" the nurse sighed. "Thank goodness, he's going to tomorrow. We're just about worn out with him. And he was so nice at the beginning, too! It's the mural that's fretted him and got him so obstreperous. Here you are, Mr. Brigham, this is Assey Mayo."

"I hope," Assey said sincerely, "that all them bandages ain't any indication of how you feel. An' what's the contraption for, the busted leg?"

Brigham smiled behind his bandages. "Thanks to you and your doctor," he said. "I feel pretty good. And I'm glad to see you. I've got a lot I want to tell you, and a lot more I want to be told about—"

"Fifteen minutes," the nurse said warningly, and went out.

"What a bunch!"

"THEN," Assey said, "we got to work fast. First off, who are you really? They didn't get any response from the wires they sent off about you, to the folks whose names they found in your wallet. That made me wonder if Brigham wasn't a kind of pen name."

"It is," Charles Horn.

"Assey said," Assey said. "The lad himself. And because we haven't a lot of time, I'll tell you that I was sacked from the L. and N. for drinking. So I'm Brigham for a while, till I can work up to being Horn again. And if I hadn't been a little bit tight the other night, Strutt wouldn't have got me into that plane. And if I wasn't one of the best pilots I know, I wouldn't be here now, nor would Strutt. All I ask is to get out of here and give that mug a good licking before somebody kills him for me."

"To save a lot of fiddlin' around, and to save you from talkin'," Assey said, "let me guess, 'you tell me where I'm off my trolley in the story. Go back to Friday. You sent on joy rides—"

"And how! If I'd known more about that outfit, you couldn't have got me there in irons. What a bunch!"

"Uh-huh. Friday evening, you an Roddy trailed a pal of his to Providence, an' then come back here—when?"

"Around eight or so. And I sat down for the first time all day, and had a couple of drinks. I needed 'em, too," he said. "I needed 'em!"

"After Strutt came in, and then he came back," Assey said. "Say around eleven, and told you that you had to go up again. That right?"

"Yes, I said he was crazy, and I was tired, and the plane needed some overhauling, and his lighting system was lousy. But nothing would do, after arguing and arguing, but we had to go up. Finally we got things organized—and the way I felt about him and his crowd, I didn't care if he did smash up his plane, and him, and myself, too. And he went up, and he dared me to land in the town square. For the hell of it, I did. I wouldn't have cracked up if he hadn't got panicky and froze onto me—say, what was going on? What was his idea? It must mean something, or you wouldn't be interested."

Assey explained. "Alibi," he finished up. "One's asked him just what he was doing there, and he was, an' why, during the time Marina Lorne was killed—you know about that?"

"The nurses don't talk about anything else," Brigham said, "except her, and that plumber that wants to fight anyone his weight for two cents. They've been having a time with him. He roared for a solid hour this morning. Say, was Strutt up in the murder?"

"That," Assey said, "is what I yearn to know. Can't you cast any light?"

"All I know is, he went off after we got back from trailing that carp, all high and happy. When he came back around eleven, he was frightened about something."

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK.—The Activities of Mr. Adolf Hitler in his endeavor to assemble the German minorities in European countries under the 3rd Reich, if successful, would present an interesting if complex situation in New York.

Gotham is the 2nd largest German city in the world, bowing only to Berlin itself in the number of citizens with German blood.

For the sake of argument, then, that he succeeds and that, by some strange hokus-pokus even the Manhattan minority is included in his plans. That would leave a huge chunk of this town goose-stepping to and from their offices.

Meanwhile, New York also happens to be the largest Italian city in the world. There are more Italians here even than in Rome. And if Mussolini were to get the same idea and cluck to the Roman minorities, we'd have another fine set-up of Fascists, cluttering the elevators and the subway trains with black shirts. The Irish, as you may have heard, constitute a vast part of New York's seven millions, and if the Free State likewise started wearing the Irish minorities away from Mr. LaGuardia and Washington, why, that would give the Spaniards an idea, which in turn might inspire the Russians to reach across the sea and do a little special controlling.

IN THE end it would amount to New York's being governed by about twenty nations. There are 40 or 50 thousand Frenchmen in New York. There are hundreds of thousands of Jews, thousands of Poles, a lot of Scandinavians plus a goodly group of Dutch; there are Assyrians, Lettes, Lascars, Chinese, Japanese, Gypsies, Moors, Latins from all the South American republics, Rumanians, Hungarians, Arabs, English, Scotch, Canadians, Hawaiians—in fact, it's the largest and most complete international settlement in the world.

With all these conflicting religious and political creeds jostling each other, another "little World War" might break out.

This won't happen of course, but it is what unofficially has taken place. I mean the German-American Bund, etc., has caused a widespread belief among outsiders that New York, really, is a rallying ground for alien causes.

IT IS true that a large number of German-Americans are enrolled in some sort of gray-shirt organization, and they hold meetings in Yorkville which occasionally are marked by violence, but for the most part, the Italians and the Poles and the Irish do their fighting man to man, in a personal way, and Mussolini and De Valera are strictly out of the picture. And after the fighting they often as not go off arm in arm and down in their differences in steaming bowls of spaghetti or cornmeal and cabbage. That's the way we do things in New York.

Open House Here For Stamp Clubs

With representatives from Albany, Catskill, Hudson, Rhinebeck, Poughkeepsie, Highland, Peekskill, Newburgh, Middletown and Nyack participating in the arrangements, the annual Colonial City Stamp Club open house will be held this evening at the Gov. Clinton Hotel.

The general public is invited to see the fine display of rare and popular stamp collections. It is expected that the doors to the stamp rooms will be opened about 8 o'clock.

For three or four weeks the committee from the Colonial City Stamp Club has been hard at work in order to present another outstanding exhibition to the stamp fans in this locality and also to visitors.

Every American knows that Thomas Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence. He also:

The profile portrait of this great American, from the bust of Houdon, is pictured on the new 3-cent stamp of the presidential series. It will go on sale at Washington June 15. The same bust was used for the design of the new nickel.

Previous Jefferson stamps have shown the Gilbert Stuart portrait and the Ceracchi bust.

Constitution 1788, and at upper right, "United States Postage 1938."

The constitution, adopted Sept. 17, 1787, was ratified before the end of the year by Delaware, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. And during the first five months of 1788, Georgia, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maryland and South Carolina ratified.

On June 21, New Hampshire became the ninth state to ratify, and only nine state ratifications were needed to end the confederacy and form the union. New Yorkers kept on bitterly debating, for opposition was strong in that state, and on June 24 a fleet courier, engaged by Alexander Hamilton, brought the news from Concord to Poughkeepsie where the New York convention sat. After another month of haggling, New York also ratified. Meanwhile Virginia had joined the union, though North Carolina and Rhode Island held out another year or so.

One Bright Spot
In Rail Situation

There was some hope yesterday that Congress might still see fit to extend some aid to the railroads, when the Senate banking and currency committee reported the bill favorably and there was talk of immediate action. However, there was a continuation of the opposition on the part of rail labor and leaders of the House made it apparent that they would not consider the bill even if it passed the Senate.

There was one bright spot in the railroad situation, so far as eastern carriers are concerned. The ICC reopened the eastern passenger fare case and called further hearings on the matter for June 27. The ICC by a recent decision turned down the petition of the eastern roads for an increase in basic coach fare from two cents to two and a half cents a mile. It is figured that the half cent increase would give eastern roads $32,000,000 a year additional revenue.

The long-standing proposal of seven western and northwestern roads to dismember the Minneapolis & St. Louis road and apportion it among contiguous roads was denied by the ICC.

Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. and subsidiaries report net profit of $2,429,738 for six months ended April 30, equivalent after dividend requirements on six percent preferred to 53 cents a share on its 1,941,303 share of common stock. Compared with $1.25 a share on common in the same period in 1932. Firestone has followed the policy of strict adherence to wholesale tire price schedules established last November.

After showing losses for the last three trading days stocks went over to the plus side Tuesday. Turnover was low, 350,000 shares. Industrials gained 0.31 for the day, to 112.78 in the Dow Jones averages. Rails gained 0.24 point, to 20.40 and utilities showed a drop of 0.03 point, to 118.45. Corporate bonds tended slightly lower, governments were irregular.

July wheat at Winnipeg was up as much as five cents, the limit, all December positions in domestic markets set new seasonal highs. Cotton closed higher. Rubber was strong; silk higher.

Administrator Hopkins announced that the WPA, following the suggestion of President Hillman of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, will buy $10,000,000 of surplus stocks of clothing for distribution to needy persons.

CIO Director Brophy, blaming the AFL for the present split in the ranks of organized labor, yesterday told the American Newspaper Guild's fifth annual convention that the AFL "can have unity any time they are ready to proclaim publicly that industrial unionism will be recognized."

William J. Cameron, speaking at Advertising Federation convention, said there was no economic reason for the period we are passing through. He said that Canada was free from the uncertainty which has reduced business so sharply in this country and what decline there has been there is due to conditions in this country.

New York, June 15 (AP)—A passing flurry over inflation prospects left the stock market a shade higher today, but failed to jar it out of its recent lethargy. Exceptional demand for gold in London, presumably for hoarding as a hedge against possible currency devaluation, brought a small morning buying wave in raw material shares, such as mines, oils, rubbers and agricultural issues.

By midday, it was all over, and Wall Street lapsed back into its waiting attitude, waiting for final developments in Congress as it pushed toward adjournment, for clues as to when the business recession, recently flattening out, may turn upward.

A bad slump in rail issues in the bond market, as hopes of authorization for liberalized R. F. C. lending faded, tended to discourage share traders, but had little effect on equity quotations. By mid-afternoon, the stock list was off fractions from the midday tops, but holding well. The day's turnover was expected to approximate 400,000 shares.

Early gains of substantial fractions in steel and motors were lost, but such issues as Goodyear, U. S. Rubber, Sears, International Harvester, Standard of N. J., Texas Corp., American Smelting, duPont, McIntyre, Dome, Eastman, Penney, Johns-Manville, and several others held around a point above yesterday's final levels. U. S. Smelting got up nearly 3. Homestake, however, finally fell off a point. Rail shares were neglected, and but slightly changed, failing to join a slump in rail bonds.

AIRLINER'S SNOWY GRAVE LIES HIDDEN FOR 3 1/2 MONTHS

Framed by evergreens and snow-topped peaks, the wreck of the TWA airliner which vanished last March 1 in the rugged Sierra Nevada, is shown here on the side of storm-wetted Euna Vista peak which rises 9,777 feet. The bodies of its six passengers and three crew members were recovered. Nose buried in snow and tall supported by trees, the pictures apparently preserves something of the story of the screaming last plunge. Lower right, kneeling over wreckage, an early visitor at the scene searches for evidence which might contribute to the story of the disaster.

Humanity Day
Friday, June 17

Dr. Joseph H. Rosenberg, chairman of the local committee of United Council for Civilian Relief in China, is devoting a great deal of time to the solicitation of funds for the needy civilians of China and while no "Bowl of Rice Party" will be held locally because of the short notice, every effort is being made to solicit funds locally. In 18 states governors have issued proclamations designating Friday as "Humanity Day" and on that day in many localities "Bowl of Rice Parties" will be held to raise funds.

Appointed local representative by Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., Dr. Rosenberg will have into boxes distributed throughout the city in all business places for the receipt of money by this evening. This method of securing funds locally has been adopted in lieu of the Friday night party.

This morning Dr. Rosenberg stated that any one desiring to make a donation to this cause may send money or checks to Mrs. George D. Logan, treasurer of the fund, who was named last week by the chairman.

Mayors of many cities have issued proclamations setting aside Friday as "Humanity Day" and Mayor Helsenman is expected to make such a designation here by proclamation.

Committees to cooperate in the movement are now being selected by Dr. Rosenberg. In many communities the "Bowl of Rice Party" will be held amid Chinese surroundings and in New York city a festival will follow the parties in Mott, Pell and Bowers streets, sections of Chinatown.

The fund to be raised by the United Council for Civilian Relief in China, headed by Col. Theodore Roosevelt, will be turned over to duly authorized and established relief agencies for relief of civilians in China who have been turned from their homes by the Japanese invasion. More than 50,000,000 Chinese civilian refugees are in acute destitution and funds solicited in this country will supply food and material aid for many.

Rites Held Today
For Mrs. Hickey

The funeral of Mrs. Thomas J. Hickey, long active in the religious and civic life of Kingston, was held this morning from the late home, 446 Broadway, at 9:30 o'clock and thence to St. Mary's Church, where at 10 o'clock a solemn Mass of requiem was offered by the Very Rev. Monsignor John J. Stanley, P. R., V. F., with the Rev. Benjamin C. Roth as deacon, and the Rev. James P. Moore, as subdeacon. Seated with in the chancel was the Rev. Martin T. Leddy, C. S. S. R.

The services at the church were largely attended and there was a profusion of floral offerings as well as a large number of spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards.

The male choir of the church sang the responses to the Mass and at the offertory Paul Purcell sang "O Salutaris" and at the conclusion of the Mass he sang the "Ave Maria."

The honorary bearers were Edward Coykendall, Judge John T. Loughran, Judge Frederick G. Traver, Walter Seaman, Chief of Police J. Allan Wood, Lieutenant Charles Phinney, James F. Dwyer, James J. O'Connor, District Attorney Cleo B. Murray, County Treasurer Pratt Boice, County Attorney Roscoe V. Elsworth and Edward T. McGill.

The active bearers were former Mayor E. J. Dempsey, Judge Bernard A. Culliton, Assemblyman J. Edward Conway, John O'Reilly of this city and Henry Forrester and Harry Kelly, both of Poughkeepsie.

Burial was in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery, where the Rev. William H. Kennedy and the Rev. Martin T. Leddy had charge of the committal services at the grave.

Early Motor Cycle

The earliest known attempt at a two-wheeled vehicle which would proceed under its own power is said to have been made by W. W. Austin of Winthrop, Mass., in 1868. It was propelled by a coal-burning steam engine. Other more or less similar affairs followed in 1864 and 1866. In 1895 a cycle propelled by a combustion engine using gasoline was exhibited at Madison Square Garden in New York city. This has been called the first appearance of the motor cycle.

Naming "Nag's Head"

"Nag's Head" is on the coast near Cape Hatteras. In colonial times the famous pirate, Saxon Teach, known as Blackbeard, lived there. He would fasten a lantern to a horse's head and, at night, the lantern bobbing up and down with the movement of the old nag's head, would look, from the sea, like a ship's light riding the waves. Other ships, thinking there was a channel or an anchorage, would follow and go ashore. The pirates then would take the disabled vessel.

Local Death Record

The funeral of Peter J. O'Rourke was held Monday morning in the Church of the Sacred Heart in Newburgh where a requiem Mass was offered. Burial was in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery, this city.

Mrs. Harriette Alliger Wyatt, wife of Joseph Wyatt, died at Harrisonburg, Va., Tuesday. Her funeral will be held from the chapel of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street, Kingston, Friday, at 12 o'clock noon. Burial will be in Montrose cemetery.

Charles Van Steenberg died at his home, West Saugerties, Monday, June 12, in the 63rd year of his age. Deceased had been a lifelong resident of the town and was a stone cutter by trade. He was born in West Saugerties and for some time resided at Shults Corners. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. John Myer, of West Saugerties, to whom will be extended the sympathy of friends and neighbors. The funeral will be held from The Seamon Bros. Co. Chapel Thursday at 2:30 p. m. Interment Blue Mountain Cemetery.

Moses E. Reisinger died Tuesday at his home in Burnside, aged 58 years. He is survived by his wife and a daughter, Mrs. Louis Cawell of Burnside. Mr. Reisinger was a member of the L. O. O. F. Lodge of Olive Bridge. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Tongore M. E. Church with the Rev. Mr. Hewitt officiating. Burial will be in the Tongore cemetery. The bearers will be Oscar Dudley, Arthur Trowbridge, Grover Christiansa and Elwyn Elmer and Alonzo Davis. Friends wishing to view the remains may do so up until Friday noon at the parlors of H. B. Humiston in Kerhonkson.

English Traders' Taxes

Once Paid With Pepper

English traders once were required to pay their taxes to the city in pepper. Certain landlords demanded one pound of pepper as rent from their tenants. One of the most famous English guilds was that of the pepperers, established in the Twelfth century.

Records go back even further as we find that the Goths demanded 3,000 pounds of pepper as part of the ransom of Rome, after its capture in the Fifth century, notes a writer in the Kansas City Star.

Most black and white pepper comes from the Dutch East Indies and from India. The pepper berries are gathered when they begin to turn red and are dried in the sun or near a slow fire. The whole berries are ground to produce the spice known as black pepper, while the other shells are removed in the preparation of the white spice.

Red peppers, of which there are a number of varieties, such as cayenne, tabasco and paprika, are made from the powdered ripe pods of the capsicum plant, which differ greatly in pungency. Of these paprika, which generally comes from Hungary and Spain, is particularly mild, the first having the more distinctive flavor. Powdered pepper generally is used in this country.

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to our relatives, neighbors and friends for their kindness shown during our recent bereavement.

Box Score
Media, Pa.—Mrs. Ethel R. Holtenbaugh, 24, testified in divorce court she kept a "score" on her husband's abuses.
She read it:
"Struck on face, 30 times; kicked, 12 times; choked, 25 times; pulled out of bed, twice."
She got the divorce.

Flight Delayed
Richmond, Calif.—A carrier pigeon bearing an official invitation to Gov. Herbert Lehman of New York to visit San Francisco's 1939 world exposition got as far as Richmond and bogged down on free food.
The bird halted at Antonio Mazza's grocery store and refused to leave after he fed it some crumbs.

Wappinger Indian Chief Is Honored by Tablet

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 15 (AP)—An Indian chief, Daniel Nightham, of the Wappinger tribe, finally has been honored for his efforts to hold back a British advance in Westchester county during the Revolutionary War. Officials of the Dutchess County Historical Society helped unveil a tablet near Fishkill in memory of the chief, who was killed in battle.

erine Carter, June Kelder, Mary Swarthouse, Catherine Huben, Emily Viano, Stephen Huben, James Flanagan, Thomas McElrath, Joseph Viano, William Reilly, Delbert Alberts, John Lester McEvoy, Franklin Miller, Frank Rose, Jr., Marilyn Chick and Peter Rue.

THE VLY.

The Vly, June 15.—M. J. Bleier of Brooklyn spent the week-end with his family at the Rockeys Ridge cottage here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Coon of Hurleyville were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rose Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wiedmann of Cos Cob, Conn., spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Beatty and son, Vernon, and Mr. and Mrs. Moses Van Demark spent Monday in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wurster have a few city boarders this week.

Church services every Sunday afternoon at 2:30, with sermon by the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Hewitt.

Joseph Lee Day

Plans for the nation-wide observance of July 28 as National Joseph Lee Day moved forward today when President Roosevelt in a letter to John H. Finley, president of the National Recreation Association, expressed himself "heartily in accord with the idea of setting aside a special time to pay tribute to the life and work of Joseph Lee." Exercise on that day, the anniversary of Mr. Lee's death in 1937, will commemorate the contribution which Mr. Lee made to the national recreation movement.

More than 500 pawnshops, located in Shanghai area, were either destroyed or looted during hostilities last year, according to a survey just completed by the Shanghai Pawnbrokers' Guild. The total loss was estimated at more than (U. S.) $10,000,000.

Maverick Season Opens June 23

A cast of experienced actors is correctly whipping into shape for the first production at the Maverick Theatre which will open June 23 and run through to June 26.

The first play of the season will be "The Play is the Thing." The players are now rehearsing under the direction of Vincent Hall.

Joan MacGowan will play the role of Iona, the glamorous young actress, who complicates her own love affairs. She has played in stock at Queens Village and other places and has appeared in the road company of Children's Hour, and Gangbusters. Numbered among the productions in which she took part are Outward Bound, Hotel Universe, Seventh Heaven, Bill of Divorcement, Twelfth Night and Art and Mrs. Bottle.

Russell Baker plays opposite Joan MacGowan in the part of Almyr. Mr. Baker played in the recent Broadway showings of Richard III and Daughters of Atrius. He has played on the Philip Morris program and three seasons of stock in Omaha at the Omaha Playhouse. Russell Baker played Shakespeare with Polio Players and directed and announced radio shows on station WOW in Omaha.

Others in the cast include Horton Foote, who has had both stage and motion picture experience; Housley Stevens, Dean Williams and Shirley Silverman of Kingston, member of the Ulster County Theatre Association.

What Congress Is Doing Today

(By The Associated Press)

Adjournment — Leaders seek to end session before midnight. Flood control—Unexpected opposition—Senate votes on amendments to $3,753,000,000 bill.

Appropriations — Senate and House act on final deficiency bill. Miscellaneous — Both chambers clean up slack of minor measures.

Yesterday Wage-hour bill sent to White House. Compromise relief bill approved in House, and partially in Senate.

House rules committee refused John L. Lewis' request for action on bill placing government contracts under wage-hour standards.

House approved $500,000 anti-trust inquiry; rejected investigation of radio industry.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, June 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Hummel on Sunday last quietly celebrated their 43rd wedding anniversary at their home on South Broadway.

Albert Munson has been spending a few days at his home here.

Mrs. Margaret O'Meara of Brooklyn is visiting Miss Alice Cashdollar at her home on Salem street.

School No. 13 will hold its annual picnic, which is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association, on the school grounds Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Althack of Maplewood, N. J., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Webster Munson.

The following Parent-Teacher Association officers were recently elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. William Schwaiger; vice president, Mrs. Samuel Freer; treasurer, Mrs. John G. Reynolds; secretary, Mrs. Leah Vaffee.

The Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps practice will be held at 7:30 Thursday evening.

The commencement exercises of School 13, Port Ewen, will be held Wednesday night, June 28. Those who are interested are requested to notice the change from June 27 to June 29.

The Ever Ready Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Arthur Fowler Monday evening. This was the last meeting until fall. At the close of the business meeting the dining room was opened, disclosing a candle lighted table appropriately decorated in white and silver, with a centerpiece of bride's roses and two large wedding cakes in honor of the 25th wedding anniversary of two of the members, Mrs. Reginald H. Van Leuven and Mrs. John G. Reynolds. Mrs. Van Leuven and Mrs. Reynolds were the Misses Mary and Margaret Waye of Eddyville and were married in that village 25 years ago June 30. Dainty refreshments were served, gifts were presented to the two brides and hearty congratulations and good wishes were extended to them by all present. Members of the Ever Ready Club attending this happy event besides the guests of honor were Alice Tinnle, Amelia Rose, Clara Thayer, Dorothy Falcen, Ella Howe, Gladys Jump, Gladys Potter, Gladys Woolsey, Grace Zimmerman, Jennie Schwaiger, Lillian Mable, Mary Bishop, Mary Neal,

AND DON'T FORGET SUNDAY IS FATHER'S DAY

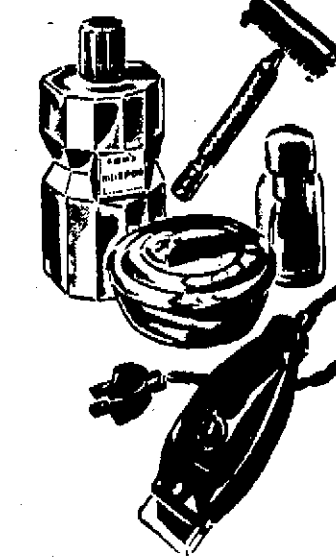

Help off to Dad! Here he is still smiling, after a hectic year of work that no one but he could have shouldered. Next Sunday give him a token of the recognition that is his due. He's already shown us he can take it. Now the time for us to give him something he won't find so hard to take. Don't hold out on the old boy. Show him as good as he gives and make it a Father's Day he won't forget!

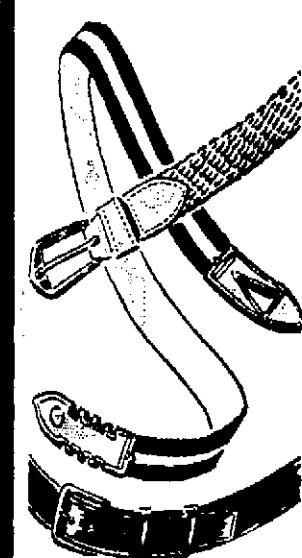

You can't go wrong on hand-picked, no man ever has enough. The upper one here is a bedford linen and the lower, a patsey silk.

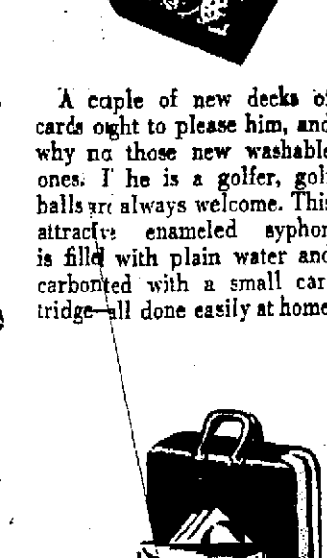

He is always glad to have some toilet accessories—even if he doesn't buy them for himself. Shown here are suggestions are a shaving lotion, a safety razor, a brush in a new holder, a bowl of shaving soap and an electric razor. Gifts to fit every pocketbook.

A couple of new decks of cards ought to please him, and why not those new washable ones. I he is a golfer, golf balls are always welcome. This attractive enameled siphon is filled with plain water and carbonated with a small cartridge—all done easily at home.

Belts are essential for summer clothes. This group shows up of braided twine, a sports belt with a unique new leather buckle, and a third of mannish cordovan leather.

This handsome clock has a lighter in it, and you can have his signature reproduced on the side of the attractive flameless lighter.

This week-end gift has a hook-less slide fastener. One side is fitted with a tool case and though small, the case is big enough to hold everything you need for a week-end trip.

Just the thing for those quiet evenings at home is a nice silk lounge robe.

It seems that no man who smokes can have too many smoking accessories, and fathers seem to love a collection of pipes and a combination pipe-rack humidor. A preference cigarette case is useful around the house as well as a nice present, and a cigarette holder or a monogrammed case make acceptable gifts.

Swinney-Taber

Miss Ruth Taber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Taber, of Milton, became the bride of Charles A. Swinney, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Swinney of Fort Dodge, Ia., Thursday afternoon, June 9, in a beautiful garden wedding at the home of her parents. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of chantilly lace and net with a finger tip veil and carried a sheaf of daisies. Mrs. B. Sheldon of Poughkeepsie was matron of honor. The bridesmaid, Miss Selma Badgely of Wappinger Falls was maid of honor. Leslie Wiles of Chicago acted as best man and Sidney Taber ushered. The Rev. Joseph Bruchyorian Church performed the double ring ceremony and Miss Grace Wilkes, pianist played the wedding march. A reception followed. Mrs. Swinney attended Highland High School and graduated in 1930 from the Oakwood School, Poughkeepsie. In 1933 she entered William Penn College from which she was graduated in 1937. She taught during the year in the Deep River, Ia., high school.

College Women Hold Annual Picnic

The members of the Kingston College Women's Club held their annual picnic Tuesday at Watson Hollow Inn. Late in the afternoon the members began arriving in order to enjoy the pleasant grounds before supper which was served at 6 o'clock on the porch and terrace.

A short business meeting followed the supper. Miss Dorothy C. Fuller, who has an A. B. degree from Connecticut College for Women, was accepted into active membership. Mrs. John Snyder, chairman of the scholarship award committee, announced that the $100 scholarship awarded annually to a member of the high school graduating class had been given to Miss Virginia Boggs of Woodstock. It was also voted that a committee be appointed to investigate the possibilities of securing a speaker or entertainer of note. Those named to this committee were Miss Ethel M. Hull, Mrs. Thomas L. Partlan, Mrs. Harry Halverson and Miss Agnes Scott Smith.

The following committees for the coming year were announced by the president, Mrs. John L. MacKinnon. Program: Miss Ione Kinkade, chairman, Miss Jean Estey, Miss Laura Bailey, Miss Rosalene Preston.

Hostess committee: Mrs. Clifford Rose, chairman, Mrs. Howard St. John.

Scholarship Fund committee: Miss Dorothy Brooks, chairman, Miss Mary Hubbard.

Scholarship Award: Miss Agnes Scott Smith, chairman, Miss Ethel M. Hull, Mrs. William Murray, Mrs. Herbert I. Bloom, Mrs. Joseph McNeil.

Extension Committee: Mrs. John Bott, chairman, Miss Catherine Dunegan, Mrs. William Wulp.

Membership Committee: Miss Elsie Rice, chairman, Miss Dorothy DuMont, Mrs. Edward Hughes.

Publicity: Miss Margaret Howe, Miss Agnes Scott Smith.

Chairmen of the various study groups were also appointed: Current Events, Miss Ethel M. Hull; Drama, Miss Mary Staples; Book, Mrs. Irwin Jennings; Bible Study, Miss Ione Kinkade; French, Mrs. John Snyder.

The meeting closed with a short musical program arranged by Mrs. Mortimer Downer.

Miss Laura Bailey, soprano, sang "Four Leaf Clover" and "Trail End" with "Elit Man" as an encore. She was accompanied by Miss Ethel M. Hull. The second group of numbers was given by Mrs. Downer, who sang "At Dawning," with the violin obligato played by Miss Eva Clinton, and "I Dream of Jeanie with the Light Brown Hair." Her encore was "Beautiful Dreamer." Mrs. Lloyd LeFever was the accompanist. In conclusion the group enjoyed singing a number of old favorites.

D.A.R. Celebrates Flag Day

Willwyck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, celebrated Flag Day Tuesday with the annual chapter card party, program and food sale. Nine tables were in play at the card party which was under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles A. Terwilliger and Mrs. Lancelot Phelps. The short program was the same as that printed in Monday's Freeman and followed the official welcome by the regent, Mrs. William R. Anderson. Those taking part in the program were John Warren, Selwyn Tucker, Bernard Michel, Donald Everett, Doris Bouton, Dorothy Deyo, Mrs. Floyd Ellsworth, Mrs. Claire Sheaffer, Mrs. Lloyd LeFever, Mrs. Clarence Wolfenstein, Mrs. William Macgregor Mills. Following the program the members and their guests enjoyed a social hour which was in charge of Mrs. Homer Emerick. The afternoon's patriotic program was arranged by Mrs. Maurice Safford, assisted by Mrs. A. H. Van Buren, Mrs. William Macgregor Mills and Miss Sarah W. Hasbrouck. The food sale was in charge of the Junior Group.

The Coterie Concludes Year

The Coterie concluded its year of activity last evening with a picnic supper for its members and their husbands at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Van Valkenburgh in Ponckhockie. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Van Valkenburgh, Miss Mary Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. William Terwilliger, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Berger, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Truckload of Cards Stops Suddenly in Upstate Town

Dolgeville, N. Y., June 15 (AP).—If you see the lights burning late in Dolgeville homes, the citizens may be gathered around card tables, enjoying a windfall of aces, kings and queens.

A truck loaded with playing cards was crushed against a low railroad bridge, and small boys in the neighborhood lost no time in salvaging packs scattered about the landscape.

Graduation Awarded.

Named among ten students of the New York School for the Blind at Batavia, according to the Associated Press, is Irving Whitaker of Kingston. The group will be awarded their diplomas this evening. Dr. Arthur K. Gattman, state chief of agricultural education, will give the commencement address.

Supper Committee Meeting

The members of the Service League of the First Presbyterian Church who are serving on the committee for the summer cafeteria to be held Thursday, June 23, are asked to meet tomorrow evening at the home of the chairman, Mrs. James Pirie, 22 Tremper avenue. All members of the league who are willing to assist are also invited to attend the meeting.

There will be more than honor for the president of the student body at the University of Texas next year. Students have voted a $30 a month salary for the president, the money to be raised from a student tax.

Clinton Chapter Holds Meeting

The final meeting of the spring season for Clinton Chapter, No. 445, O.E.S., was held Friday evening. A new member, Grace Estelle Lund was taken into the order at that time. As there was only one candidate Mrs. Kellerman kindly offered to go through the initiation with her. Miss Seardenefeld congratulated the officers on their initiatory work and urged all members to return their cards for the Grand Chapter.

At the conclusion of the initiation the Chapter was called to recreation at the request of Vivien Kellenberger, W. M., and a very impressive flag degree was put on by the Floral staff and at this time a new flag was presented to the Chapter. Purchase of the new and lighter flag which may be better carried by the color-bearers, was made possible through a card party at the home of Ellen Beecher on the Sawkill-Zena road recently. The Chapter was then reconvened and Edna Schepmoes Morgan was invited to the East, extended congratulations on her recent marriage and presented with a gift from the members of the chapter by W. M. Vivien Kellenberger. Mrs. Morgan thanked the Matron and members for the many kindnesses shown her in the past during the years which she had acted as secretary of the Order. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served under the supervision of Hannah Schneider. The meetings will be resumed the second Friday in September.

Menus Of The Day

By Mrs. Alexander George

Serving On The Porch Luncheon For Six
Shrimp Cocktail, Salted Waters, Baked Corn-Steamed Green Peppers, Creamed Asparagus, Cocoa Scones, Butter Balls, Fruit Cream, Coffee.

Cocoa Scones
2 cups pastry flour
1/2 cup cocoa
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons fat
1 egg
1 cup milk

Mix together the flour, cocoa, baking powder, sugar and salt. Cut in the fat with a knife. Still mixing with the knife, slowly add egg and milk. (The exact amount of milk can not always be determined. A bit more may be needed.) Pat the soft dough out until it is two-thirds of an inch thick. Sprinkle with topping and cut out in small diamond shapes. Bake for seven minutes on a greased pan in a moderate oven. Serve warm, plain or spread with soft butter.

Topping
2 tablespoons flour
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
Lightly mix ingredients and sprinkle over soft dough before it is cut.

Fruit Cream
(A Frozen Dessert)
2 egg yolks
3 tablespoons pineapple
1 cup milk
1 cup orange juice
1 cup whipped cream
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt

Beat yolks. Add flour. When blended add milk. Cook in double boiler until very thick, stirring constantly. Cool. Add the rest of the ingredients and freeze for four hours in a tray in the mechanical refrigerator—or pack in a covered mold and bury for four hours in five parts of chopped ice and one part of coarse salt.

Jewish Congress Meeting Tonight

Committees of the various Jewish organizations in this city appointed for the purpose of the forthcoming American Jewish Congress elections will please meet on Congregation Agudas Achaim at 8:30 tonight. The general public is also urged to attend a listen to presentation of the Congress issues. Plans for the mechanics of the election must be perfected and delegates to the Washington session of the Congress elected. This meeting is of vital importance to all Jews and others interested in the problem.

THE GROOM'S MOTHER WORE

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was being fitted in New York with the gown she will wear at the wedding of her son, John, and Anne Clark at Nahant, Mass.

The details: Billowy navy blue net over soft blue crepe slips; scalloped medallions of Eleanor blue Chantilly lace outlining medieval neckline and skirt insertion of same. Blue lilies-of-the-valley fastened over the belt. Hat is handblocked navy net, banded in navy velvet. Shoes and gloves are of navy suede.

New Device Draws Heart Pictures for Surgeon

Tulsa.—A machine that draws a living electrical picture of heart action to guide surgeons during operations will be displayed here soon by its inventors. It is expected to revolutionize operating room technique.

The machine, a new type electrocardiograph, records heart beats on a phosphorescent screen whose aspect tells the surgeon the instant the patient's heart starts failing. It is an improvement over old-type electrocardiographs, which take photographs of the impulses. Their record is not available until the film has been developed and dried—a process requiring minutes that might mean a patient's life or death.

The new machine is an invention of Dr. Frank E. Hocker of the University of Kansas physics department and Dr. Graham Asher, University of Kansas medical school instructor.

Thought Drama Was Wicked

Actors who wished to present plays in Eighteenth century Philadelphia fought long and hard before they could convince the good burghers that the drama was not wicked. Not until 1749 did Philadelphians see a play—and then it wasn't legal and the players were run out of town. Not until 1764 did Philadelphia have a legal playhouse.

Joneses Shut Out Grunies 9-0; 1st Outdoor Boxing Card Friday

Schatzel's Fumble Robs Toddy Uhl of No-Hit Contest

Bakers Fall in 4th

Zoller Holds Joneses to No Hits Until Fourth, Then Two Runs Are Made—Kynize and Closes Tonight

Three City League baseball players, Bud Zoller, Toddy Uhl and Schatzel, walked off the Athletic Field last night after the Joneses Dairies trimmed the Grunewald Bakers 9-0 with heavy hearts, and each for a different reason.

The first, Bud Zoller, Grunewald pitcher, worked hard for the club, struck out seven men and walked only three. For all the good his efforts did him he might have been a mascot tossing balls for a practicing batter. Toddy Uhl, from the standpoint of personal loss, was perhaps the heaviest loser. For seven innings he pitched flawlessly, gave but one walk and then in the final frame, with one man on, Schatzel, Jones first baseman, let an easy grounder through him. Don Kelly gained first base thereby in the capacity of a pinch hitter for Joe Dulin. Burgevin, next man up, popped a fly to Chappie Vanderzee. Two men gone and even though Kelly gained second, not so much for Toddy to worry about.

But the next man was Paul Miso and Miso took Uhl's no-hit game from him with a clean single over third.

Thus in two plays Toddy lost what every pitcher dreams of: A no-hit, no-run, no error game. As for Schatzel, to use the vernacular, he felt lousy, said so and acted it.

For three innings Bud Zoller held the batters to no hits and no runs and struck out four men. But in the first of the fourth and last support he had been a victim of something and the Dairies collected two runs, Celuch and A. Berardi, and Hopper poked a two-base hit. Celuch also had a single.

In the fifth inning the Joneses romped through with three more runs, J. Berardi, Zadany and Schatzel. Zadany had a hit to his credit.

In the sixth inning Uhl and J. Berardi scored, Schatzel collected a two-base hit. In addition J. Berardi, Zadany and Uhl each had a hit.

In the seventh inning Celuch raised first on Eddie Minasian's error, Hopper drove him in with a two-bagger after Celuch had gained second when Minasian added to his error by throwing wildly to first base. Chappie Vanderzee with a clean single scored Hopper.

Diamond Dust
Someone kidded Julius Chick last night about his speed foot, saying that on Sunday Chick did the hundred yards in two minutes flat. Chick said he was sure it was more than two minutes.

Uhl's run last night came with the pitcher's windup. Toddy attempted his plate slide, slid into the dust and as he did so George Zadany smashed a clean hit, snapped over Toddy and was away.

Following Hopper's two bagger Zadany was caught going home, sent to Smedes. There was nobody there to flag the ball away for George.

Eddie Burgevin had the only clean slate for the Grunewald infield so far as errors went.

Jimmy Ashdown Is Elected Captain Of K. H. S. Tossers

Bakers Fall in 4th

Zoller Holds Joneses to No Hits Until Fourth, Then Two Runs Are Made—Kynize and Closes Tonight

Tuesday afternoon Jimmy Ashdown, scrappy third sacker of the Kingston High School baseball club, was elected captain of the 1933 squad. He was put into the leader's slot unanimously. Ashdown succeeds the popular Vince Stoll, who led the Maroon club to another pennant.

Coach Cliff Miller commented: "It's the way it should be. Jim is a good ball player and a scrappy one. With the third sacker leading the club on the field next year we should be very strong to repeat the performance of the past season."

This year Jimmy Ashdown was one of the standouts on the Maroon and White roster, and through his hitting, the pitching staff of George Celuch, Earl Sleight and Hank Tiano had plenty of assistance. Throughout the campaign, Ashdown socked the pill for a top flight average of .344.

When the team assembled next year stars such as Vince Stoll, George Coley, Earl Sleight, Tony Ruz and Ray Schneider will be missing which presents just one more big problem on the lap of Coaches Miller and Whiston.

The players who attended the meeting yesterday were the captain, Vince Stoll; Jimmy Ashdown, captain-elect; George Coley, Jack Halstein, Earl McLean, Tony Berinato, Bob Halstein, Tony Ruz, Ray Schneider, Al Decker, Ray Lindhurst, Harry Mickie, Frank Dobie, Harry Flowers, George Celuch, Hank Tiano, Leta, Joe Benjamin, Gus Brininger, Harry Zoller, Johnny Berardi, Joe Ryndak, Lou Albright, and Al Hasbrouck.

FIGHTS THAT MADE HISTORY Tunney, Down 14 Seconds, Retained Title

The "Long Count": 1927
By DILLON GRAHAM
(P) Feature Service Writer
Ninth In A Series

Fight fans still argue about that "long count" at Chicago, most famous controversy in boxing history, when Jack Dempsey came so close to regaining the heavyweight championship in his second bout with Gene Tunney, September 22, 1927.

Dempsey, who had lost the title the previous year to Tunney in the rain at Philadelphia, had beaten Jack Sharkey on his comeback trail in June and was in fine shape. He pummeled Tunney's body for six rounds, trying to get Gene's guard down.

Then in the seventh he tore into Tunney like the old Dempsey of the Willard-Carpenter-Firpo days, in his bid to recapture the crown, something no other fighter ever had done. He switched from a body attack, and caught Tunney with a long overhand right to the

Louis Counts on Finishing His Bout with Schmeling in 4 Heats Bill Terry Makes Another Wisecrack

New York, June 15 (AP)—If you can take sleepy-eyed Joe Louis at his word—and Joe never was a fellow to talk just to hear his head rattle—the fight at Yankee Stadium a week from tonight may be a brannigan such as hasn't been seen since Jack Dempsey and Luis Firpo used everything except poison gas on each other back in the colossal twenties.

The one little doubt about the impending duello has been the possibility that Louis would be gun-shy and would try to play it cute, staying back of his left jab for 15 tedious rounds while Max Schmeling swore in German and waited in vain for a crack at the plant Louis jaw.

Happily now, all such doubts of the approaching 19th battle of the century have been erased. It seems safe to pay a little fortune for a ringside chair, even though it might be out in the far territory roamed so long by the immortal Babe Ruth.

Louis has expressed the hope that Schmeling will "stand up and fight." If Schmeling will, Joe promises to dispose of him in not more than four rounds. Boy-oh-oh! Stand back and quit getting in the way of the rescue squads.

A guy as filled with zeal and patriotic fervor as is Max Schmeling will fight anything. The one thing he has dreamed of for two years is another chance to hit Joe Louis.

Not that Schmeling will do anything foolish. If Louis means he wants the challenger to come out swinging, he will be disappointed. Max simply doesn't fight that way.

But if the negro wants to go after Schmeling and try to hang up that quick knockout, then he can be assured of action for his money. Max will meet him halfway, pumping that drastic right of his, and the results should be sudden and violent.

Someone asked him if he intended to see Brooklyn's first night game tonight and Bill replied: "Yes, I've always wanted to see Jesse Owens run."

Owens is scheduled to give a few exhibitions preliminary to the game.

Church Softball League
Chipe Rhymer pounded a home run, triple and single last night to lead the Comforters softballers to a 3-2 victory over Port Ewen. Scoring three markers in the third inning, the winners were never behind. Fine fielding by Rhoderian, Purvis and Canfield cut off at least three Port Ewen tallies.

Marty Nilan and Hank Eighmey were the opposing hurlers, and each gave up 10 hits. Thursday evening at the armory diamond the Comforters will clash with the Presbyterians.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT
By The Associated Press.
Los Angeles—Eddie Simms, 198, Cleveland, outpointed Wild Bill Boyd, 190, Seattle (10).
Seattle—Middleweight Champion Freddie Steele, 161½, Tacoma, outpointed Solly Krieger, 164, New York (10), non-title.
New York—Eddie McGreever, 137, Scranton, Pa., technically knocked out Honey Melody, 141, Boston (2); Bernie Friedman, 136, New York, and Orville Drouillard, 135½, Windsor, Ont., drew (8).

Kelly's Corner Fighters to Talk From Camps—Tickets Selling High

By Joe Kelly

Get your fight dope straight from the heavyweights: Interviews of the two battlers, Joe Louis and Max Schmeling, as a preliminary to their fight next week have been scheduled in a two section WJZ-NBC broadcast at 3:15 p. m. Thursday...

The pickups will come from their respective training camps. Kingston will have its first outdoor boxing show in more than two years next Friday when Joe Triola comes back from Pittsburgh U to box Vince Sempervino, Schenectady ace... This should be some scrap... Triola is a slinger, Sempervino a boxer... And the supporting card looks good... There are eight bouts instead of seven on the bill... Frankie Albright, the local knockout favorite, will be in one of the prelims... And Honeyboy Rutigins, another popular boy, will box five rounds.

Baseball fans have been asking about that game the Grunewalds played at Boileville... Well, the Grunies dropped the decision, 6-5... Spot Cullen did the pitching for the Boievilleers... Joe Mahary and Zoller took care of the flapping for the Bakers... Next Sunday the Wilbur Dodgers will be out in Boileville... Chuck Henks will be back at the Y. M. C. A. soon from his summer vacation and will start those swimming classes for the kiddies... Sam Ribber, sports announcer, plans Joe Louis to "batter" Schmeling into a helpless bulk... He says the fight will be stopped by the referee... Don't any of you guys under-rate Der Moxie.

Eddie Bricez of the Associated Press says: Speculators in New York are asking—and getting $100 per copy for Schmeling-Louis ringsides originally priced at $30... You can't buy duets inside the 30th row at any of the "legitimate" box offices... Biggest buyer to date is publisher Annenberg of the Philadelphia Inquirer... He went for $12,000 worth which indicates he intends to throw a real party... Interest is at high pitch and the bout can't miss a million... At Pompton Lakes Sunday an irate fan unsheathed a razor to tickle the legs of a photographer who was blocking his view... The photog moved away from there right pert like.

Gene Tunney is the fellow who talked Schmeling into doing a little road work for Louis... In his previous bouts here Max never won on the road... He'd take a short walk with trainer Max Malachon after dinner and let it go at that... Now he's really trotting... A pool appeared in New York today offering 5 to 1 against Louis scoring a knockout in the first three rounds; 4 to 1 against the champion doing it in the next six; 5 to 1 against his ending it in the 10th, 11th or 12th and 6 to 1 against his stopping the challenger in the last three heats... Odds against Schmeling stopping Joe are 8 to 1 for the first three; 6 to 1 in the 4th, 5th and 6th and 5 to 1 that he doesn't end it in the next six... It's 6 to 1 that Max doesn't finish Joe in the last three... Trading season ends tomorrow... Yanks want a pitcher; Indians need an outfielder; Giants can use a right-hand hitting outfielder; Dodgers need pitching; Cards want a shortstop and the Reds want Buddy Haseett... On your Marks! ... Go!

Series May Be Decided by the Sore Arms of Dean and Feller

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.

If you want the inside dope on the major league pennant races, the thing to do, apparently, is consult the doctors rather than the club managers. For two powerful pitching arms, both of them sore now, are likely to be the deciding factors.

The Chicago Cubs' prospects of beating out the New York Giants for the National League flag depend to a large degree on the recovery of Dizzy Dean. Likewise if the Cleveland Indians hope to hold their slender lead over the New York Yankees, they'll have to get a lot more service out of young Bob Feller.

Dean hasn't pitched since early April; his arm hasn't shown any improvement and he was left in Chicago for further treatment during the eastern tour that the Cubs opened yesterday with a 5-2 victory over the Boston Bees.

The Indians haven't officially admitted there's anything seriously wrong with Feller's salary wing, but he hasn't had his stuff the last two starts. He appeared in a relief role Sunday and was touched for a game-winning homer by Joe Gordon of the Yankees.

When it came Bob's regular starting turn yesterday, Manager Oscar Vitt had to try Rookie Johnny Humpbries instead. He was blasted out in a big fifth inning that gave Washington a 7-6 triumph over the Tribe.

Yankees 7-4
Meanwhile the Yankees got a seven-run gift from the Chicago White Sox and won, 7-4, to cut Cleveland's lead to a half-game.

The Cubs, looking better short-handed than any able National League club except the Giants, gained an easy victory as Tex Carlton held the Bees to seven blows. That kept them two games behind the New Yorkers, whose late rallies beat Pittsburgh 5-3.

The Pirates, who dropped back to fourth place, were the only visiting team to lose yesterday. The Boston Red Sox invaded St. Louis to beat the Browns and Buck Newson, 5-3. The Athletics, only team to beat Detroit's Vernon Kennedy this season, did it a second time, 8-2. Curt Davis pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a 4-3 victory over the Phillies.

The Cincinnati-Brooklyn game was called off because a railroad delay kept the Dodgers from arriving in time to play.

cept for the first inning when Sid Spiegel walloped a home run with the bases loaded turned in an excellent performance. Craw led the Coolers with three singles and a walk for a perfect day at bat.

Batteries: Coolers, Boyce and Craw; J. Y. A., Fischman, Kaplan and Miller.
Boston—Steve (Crusher) Casey, 225, Ireland, defeated Yvon Robert, 220, Montreal, two of three falls.

Howie Fluhr, ace right hander of the Saugerties club is expected to be on the mound with Hughie Knauer doing the receiving. In his last two starts, Fluhr has pitched two one hitters, defeating Schenectady 4-0 and losing a tough one to the Kingston Colonials 3-2 last Friday evening at the Pan Am field.

After a slow start, Fluhr has developed into one of the best pitchers in this section and his valuable right arm and hitting ability has been a highlight in most of the M. & F. games.
Pavlov, Bell, Finger, Overbarg, Freiligh, Martin, Butykins, Brink and Desmond will make up the balance of the lineup for Sunday's game which starts at 3 p. m.

CITY SOFTBALL LEAGUE
Coolers Trip J. Y. A.
Playing with a makeshift lineup of only nine men the Coolers staged the prize upset of the season Tuesday night at Black Park when they scored five runs in the last inning to overcome the J. Y. A. 8-6.
The J. Y. A. held a 6-3 lead going into the first of the seventh when things began to happen. The Coolers loaded the bases with none out and Art Kaplan, fresh from a shutout victory over Kinneys, strode to the mound to relieve Fischman, J. Y. A. starting hurler. However, Kaplan failed to stop the Icehouse Gang who scored five runs in the last inning. The losers were retired in order in the last of the seventh.

Sempervino-Triola Match Tops Scraps At O'Reilly Field

Eight Bouts

Five 3-Rounders Arranged to Give Fans of Ring Sport Lots of Action—Three Fives Head Program

Kingston's first outdoor boxing show since the American Legion ran bouts several years ago will be held Friday night on O'Reilly's field, next to the Legion building, under the auspices of the Adirondack A. A. U.

This card of scraps, headed by Joe Triola, Pittsburgh University miltman and Vince Sempervino, U. S. Army champion of the Hawaiian Islands, will be held outdoors definitely because a church meeting is scheduled for the municipal auditorium.

"Although we are supposed to have preference in getting the auditorium," said a spokesman for the Kingston A. C. in announcing the outdoor bouts, "it is far from our desire to conflict with a church organization as long as the city gave it the building."

The return of Joe Triola, from Pittsburgh U is expected to draw a crowd to the Broadway and West O'Reilly street open air arena, especially since he's matched with one of the smartest boxers to compete in the Adirondack A. A. U. in a long time.

"I've been hearing a lot about Sempervino," said Triola in agreeing to box the former U. S. Army champ, "and how smart he is. Sure, I'll box him and test out my left."

Triola has stopped many an up and coming pugilist with his left that's full of dynamite and may put a crimp in Sempervino's career Friday night.

In his last scrap here, Sempervino dropped his guard and sampled one of Richard Gremer's murderous rights that put him down for keeps preventing him from claiming three wins in a row over the New York Golden Glover.

Up until the time that Sempervino became careless, he was leading by a mile on points.

The classy upstart is not the only scrapper figuring on redeeming himself Friday. Charlie Ralpins, the Saugerties Bomber, wants to take Joe Roman, Albany better, into camp to make up for his loss on points last week to Walter Cox, classy New York boxer.

The other five rounder will pit Frankie Thompson, Ballston Spa, against Eddie Ackerly, Schenectady ace in a duel that should give plenty of action.

There are five three rounders slated, one of which will bring out Buddy Ackerman, statesman of Charlie Ralpins for the first time. This Saugerties Hercules is matched with Joe Gecey of Albany in what should be a real slam bang affair.

Frankie Albright, local knockout kid, is paired with Pete Jabonowski, Albany Polish lad; Hank Bunce, another Kingstonian, will mix it with Dory Boomhauer of the capital city; Nate Raskin, Ellettsville, Ind., will tangle with Don Samson, Kingston, blazer, and Johnny Mancuso of Pine Hill is all set to take on Jackie Couchman of Albany in the other three rounder.

Starting time of the bouts is the same as when the programs were held indoors, 9 o'clock.

Softball League Meeting Tonight

There will be no games in the Industrial Division of the City Softball League this evening on account of the meeting at 7:30 o'clock in the city hall. Important business in the league are requested to make a special effort to attend.

AND IN THIS CORNER WE HAVE:

TO WIN HIS THIRD TITLE In a year, Henry Armstrong (left), who holds featherweight and welterweight crowns, must defeat Lightweight Champ Lou Ambers (right) on July 26.

Hero of Horatio Alger Loses Literary Niche

New York.—To millions of American youths of past generations Horatio Alger's newsboy has been the symbol of adventure in the world of finance and industry.

He and other characters of the Alger pages have been the well-loved heroes of forbidden action—as much a part of the American scene, perhaps, as "Dead Eye Dick," or Jesse James.

But, even if Alger's newsboy was a favorite when grandfather was a boy, he has little chance of winning a niche in the Brooklyn Public Library's Hall of Fame. The latter was nominated, along with Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn, for a panel in the bronze grille entrance in the new Central library building now being constructed, but he seems doomed to defeat.

Instead, trustees are expected to select characters from Mark Twain, Sinclair Lewis, Washington Irving, James Fenimore Cooper, Edgar Allan Poe and other "classic" authors.

Fox Leads Famous Troop "C" Riding Team in Program

Under the direction of Captain Daniel E. Fox, commander of "C" Troop, New York State Police, the famous trick and fancy riding team of the troop performed at the New York state armory grounds on North Manor avenue Tuesday afternoon before a crowd estimated at between 1,500 and 2,000. The team was brought to Kingston as a part of the entertainment program for the Knights Templar who were in convention here, and among the spectators were a number of visitors who remained in town after the close of the business session to witness the demonstration.

Good Gallery.
Always an attraction for local people the riding attracted a good gallery from Kingston and many were disappointed that they were unable to get away from business to witness the riding of the troopers.

The program of entertainment lasted about an hour and included not only the fancy and trick riding by the members of the squad but Trooper Mossman, who has trained the troop "High School Pony" put on that act as well as a show by "Wonderous," a second "educated" horse. The series of tricks which the "educated" horses put on captured the admiration of the spectators.

Horse Greatly "Abused."
By a series of motions, bowing his head and pawing with his foot the pony informed the crowd that he had been fed but two quarts of oats a day while he wanted 15 quarts. In response to a question the horse indicated that even this amount of oats would not make him ill. In response to a question the pony informed the crowd that he was the hardest working member of the troop and did much more work than the troopers. The "High School Pony" also exhibited a remarkable sense of balance when he stretched himself out flat on the ground and balanced himself with all four feet extended in the air and retrieved a handkerchief which had been tied to a leg.

Taught by Mossman
All of the tricks taught the two "educated" horses have been taught by Trooper Mossman who not only trained but broke the horses.

The exhibition of trick and fancy riding was up to standard with several new feats of horsemanship being displayed under the direction of Captain Fox. All sorts of acrobatic stunts, handstands, "monkey drill" acrobatics and "stunt" riding was displayed to the amusement and wonderment of the onlookers. In the group riding Tuesday was, in addition to Captain Fox who directed the stunts, Corporal Moore, Corporal Flynn, Corporal Waldron and Troopers Shepard, Colombo, Knowlton, Haskins and Weeks.

While the "rough riders" were doing their stunts several former members of the team looked on with a sort of envy as they saw their Troop mates cavort about on the leather. Among those who were former members of the team but are now doing patrol duty in this section are Sergeant Hulse of Highland, Corporal N. Baker of New Paltz, Trooper Keefe, of Saugerties.

Pupils in This School Must Be 50 Years Old

Pasadena, Calif.—A school for pupils more than fifty years of age is soon to be opened here—the second of its kind in the United States. Plans for the school, which will be called the Pasadena School of Mature-ates, have been announced by Mrs. Lucile M. Cowles, for many years a teacher in the Church of Truth and Unity movement.

The aim of the school is "a physical and mental renaissance for all of its pupils and the re-education of the public mind toward people of mature years."

The school, which will follow closely the lines of the one directed by Dr. W. A. McKeever at Oklahoma City, will really be the beginning of a campaign against old age and for the extension of life.

The school will attack the belief that 70 years constitutes a decisive breaking point in the life and career of the ordinary person, and that he must inevitably enter thereafter upon a period of physical and mental decline and spiritual depression.

24 Men Plead Not Guilty on Tuesday

The charge was that of engaging in pool selling and book making on September 1, 1937, also keeping and occupying rooms for the purpose of registering bets and a third count of keeping devices and selling pools and book making on horse-races. Not guilty pleas were entered. The same motion was made by Mr. Jones and the same order made by the court as to bail.

Four in Next Charge

Four defendants were named in the next charge. Victor Russo, Dennis Costello, William J. Macarelli and Eugene Harrison were charged with selling pools, maintaining rooms for accepting bets and also accepting bets on horse races, in violation of Section 886. For these four Joseph Forman appeared and entered a plea of not guilty and asked for 20 days to make further motion. Bail was fixed by the court. He also asked for a copy of the indictment.

Victor Russo, B. W. Orme, Joseph Werner, Joseph Carpio and Joseph Duncan were charged with keeping a gambling and betting establishment on March 1, 1938, at Kingston. Joseph Forman said he appeared for all of the defendants but Duncan, and William Grogan appeared in that case but had asked Mr. Forman to represent him. Not guilty pleas were entered and the same motion and order of the court prevailed.

Policy Slips Charge

A charge of possession of policy slips on September 1, 1937, was lodged against Victor Russo, Joseph Duncan, Joseph Werner, Joseph Carpio and B. W. Orme. Joseph Forman also appeared in this matter and not guilty pleas were received and bail continued.

Under indictment No. 2537, Victor Russo was charged with being a common gambler in violation of Section 970. The date was September 5, 1937. Mr. Forman also entered a plea of not guilty in this instance.

A charge of keeping a gambling and betting establishment in violation of Section 973, was lodged against Victor Russo and William J. Macarelli. Mr. Forman entered a plea of not guilty for his clients and the same motion as to bail was made and granted.

Emanuel Calao, charged with possession of policy slips on March 22, 1938, pleaded not guilty through Mr. Forman. Bail was fixed.

Edward J. Fenton, Jr., was charged under indictment No. 2532 with possession of policy slips on March 1, 1938 and also of keeping a game and betting establishment. J. Edward Conway appeared for Fenton and a plea of not guilty was entered, 20 days for further motions were allowed and defendant was paroled in custody of Mr. Conway until Thursday.

Alpert Pleds Not Guilty

Next came Hyman Alpert who was charged with buying junk from a minor. The charge is dated April 16, 1938. He pleaded not guilty and bail was continued. He had no attorney.

Harris Cass, of Greenfield, charged with failure to provide Workmen's Compensation was arraigned and Le Roy Lounsbury appeared and a plea of not guilty was entered. The charge grew out of an incident in 1936 when one of Mr. Cass's employees was injured. Bail was fixed at $500.

Napoleon Pleds Innocence

A negro with a famous name came next. Napoleon Bonaparte was arraigned on a charge of possession of policy slips on April 8, 1938, in violation of Section 974. He pleaded not guilty and asked that counsel be assigned. Frederick Stang was assigned by the court as defense counsel. He asked 20 days for further motions, a total of the indictment and that bail be continued. Granted.

Cleveland Thomas also charged with possession of policy slips on April 7, 1938, pleaded not guilty and Judge Bernard A. Cullerton was assigned. He asked 20 days time and also that he be supplied with a copy of the indictment and that bail be continued.

Jesse Davis charged with possession of policy slips on April 8, 1938, was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. Judge Traver assigned Chris J. Flanagan but Mr. Flanagan asked to be excused because of the condition of his health and James G. Connelly was assigned.

Mr. Connelly asked for 20 days time to make motions and also for a copy of the charge. Bail was not fixed.

Scaffi Ball Continues

Louis Scaffi pleaded not guilty to the charge of possession of policy slips on April 8, 1938. Herman Katz appeared and asked 20 days time and also a copy of the charge. Bail was continued.

Walter Osmundsen and Frank Totten, inmates at Napanoch Institution, were arraigned on a charge of escaping the institution on February 2, 1938. They left the institution and took a car but were later apprehended in New Jersey and returned to Napanoch. Both pleaded guilty to the charge and Judge Traver sentenced them to the institution until discharged by law.

Palen Arraigned

William R. Palen was arraigned on a charge of rape, first degree, in two counts; rape, second degree; assault, second degree; carnal abuse of a child over 10 and under 16, and sodomy, all alleged to have been committed on May 4, 1938, at Napanoch. The charge grows out of an alleged attack upon a school girl. LeRoy Lounsbury appeared for Palen and entered a plea of not guilty. He asked 20 days to make further motions and asked that bail be fixed. Judge Traver set bail at $4,000.

The Game of Bridge

Under the name of "Bitch," bridge was played in Constantinople in the seventies of the last century. From there it spread gradually to Cairo, the Riviera, London and New York. Everywhere it went it ousted its parent game, whist. The actual first game of bridge seems to have been played at the Villa Coronia, on the upper Bosphorus, in August, 1873. Its inventor, M. Serghidi, a gentleman of Rumanian origin, was one of the four players on this historic occasion.
